TOWN TOPICS AND CURRENT COMMENT GATHERED YESTERDAY.

Richmond by Moonlight, Alone—Who Won the Prize—A Romantic Marriage—Religious Reading, &c.

A BUSY BUT UNEVENTFUL NIGHT.

What a Times Reporter Saw By Moonlight, Alone.

Last night a Times reporter started out to meander by the silver light of the moon. Taking a car in front of the Times building a short and uninteresting ride landed him at Monroe Park.

A brisk walk across a lovely area brought him to Park-Place M. E. Church. Here Rev. Dr. John Hannon was expounding the Word to a large congregation.

Next he reached the First Presbyterian church. An account of the services and the marriage at that place will be found in another column.

The Third Station House was next called on. Here were found Officer Robbins, a gallant ex-Confederate, and Squire Ambrose Barrett, but no news.

The fire lads of the Brook avenue engine-house were found on duty, all in good trim after the parade of yesterday.

At Clay street M. E. Church the Crescent exhibition was witnessed. It was a fine spectacle, and the drill was well executed. Here the reporter met Bob McDowell and Roy Dalton, two friends of his boyhood, and grasped hands with Rev. Dr. Riddick, the zealous pastor of the church. Bidding the ladies a hearty adieu, he left with invitations to call often and stay longer.

A pleasant jump was then made to Ellett's Hall. Here the District Lodge of Good Templars was in session, legislating for the good of their noble order.

At the Second station-house Sergeant Brooks and Officer Shinerberger were seen, and the police records were as bare as the cupboard of Old Mother Hubbard of happy memory.

The Fair of the Little Sisters of the Poor at the Armory was next taken in.

This is a sight well worth witnessing. The drill of the male orphans was loudly applauded, as was their vocal and instrumental music. Down stairs company B of the First Regiment were drilling. Opposite, the Texas Harry shooting-gallery was in full blast, but Texas Harry was not there; he has "gone where the woodbine twines," leaving many little souvenirs behind. He is now no doubt singing "And You'll Remember Me."

The reporter had but little time to cut capers at the Theatre, nor did he interview "A Brave Woman" at the Academy.

Both the hobby-horses and the eight-legged calf seemed to be doing a fair share of business. It was quite late when he reported back to the Times office, a very "tired" and yet not a much wiser man.

The night was lovely and the trip, uneventful in some respects, was an altogether pleasant one. It was the night for the usual weekly service of the churches, and at many, not visited, songs of praise could be heard. The reporter sat down and began meditating, in fancy free, and was about to pen what might have lived in history as a moonlight idyl, when he was recalled to the stern realities of life by a shrill call for copy—so here the lesson ends.

BLEST BE THE TIE.

A Romantic Marriage.

Those who attended the interesting services at the First Presbyterian church last night were treated to a scene not ordinarily in the order of exercises. It was a marriage and a surprise at once. For some months past Rev. A. M. Christie, of Dundee, Scotland, has been in Richmond. He has been officiating at various churches, and has favorably impressed all who have met him with his zeal and piety, as well as with his agreeable manners.

Mr. Christie has lately accepted a flattering call to a church in Mobile.

When he crossed the seas over and sailed the wide ocean he left in Bonnie Dundee his heart in the keeping of a fair lassie of that historic town. Although a continent divided them they were bound by all the ties of a hallowed love. As soon as he saw his way clear he sends to Dundee for his sweetheart, and, nothing daunted, she crosses the briny deep and sails the ocean blue, and reached the city yesterday.

The marriage last night of the Rev. A. M. Christie and Miss Jessie Colville, both late of Dundee, was performed by Rev. Dr. Kerr, and the bride and groom looked all the happiness they no doubt felt. The newly-made man and wife will have the best wishes of many friends for their long continued happiness. This only proves what the poet says—"That there is nothing half so sweet in life as loves young dream," or words to that effect. May Rev. Mr. Christie and his fair bride live long and prosper.

They Will Be Welcome.

The Supreme Lodge of the Order of the Golden Chain, now in session in Baltimore, have an intention of visiting this city, and the members of the organization here will give the members of the Supreme Lodge a grand time. They will be given a banquet by the five lodges of this city, to which the members will be invited with their families.

The Last Chance.

To-day and to-night is the last chance to see "A Brave Woman." It is a really fine play, and was last night received with great applause. It grows in interest, and is one of the best plays presented this season. "Camille" will be the attraction to-morrow.

THE PRESBYTERIAN SYNOD.

Second Day's Session.

The Synod met yesterday at 9:30 o'clock—Rev. Dr. T. L. Preston, moderator. After devotional exercises, reports were read from the various committees.

On motion of Rev. Dr. Pitzer, the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the affectionate sympathies be and are hereby tendered to the Rev. Dr. Thomas Brown, Rev. Dr. S. R. Houston, and General Robert D. Lilley, who is a member of this body, in their sickness and infirmity, as reported to this Synod.

After the transaction of other routine work the order of the day was taken up. This was the cause of ministerial education. Able addresses were made by Rev. Dr. Richardson, Rev. Dr. Pryor, and others.

LAST NIGHT'S SESSION.

The spacious church was crowded last night. The services began with a voluntary by the choir, with organ accompaniment by Mr. N. B. Clapp. After this there was reading of the scriptures, prayer, and singing of hymns 314 and 317.

The sermon was preached by Rev. E. C. Gordon, of Farmville, from John, 19th chapter, 41st and 42d verses, and Matthew, 20th chapter and 61st verse.

It was an able effort, and was highly enjoyed by all who heard it.

The choir consisted of Mr. W. J. Stephens, Miss Julia M. Kelley, Mr. W. G. Clemons, and Mr. David K. Walthall. When it is known that with this talented quartette Mr. N. B. Clapp presided at the organ it is useless to say one word of faint praise. The music was spirited and inspiring. Rev. Mr. Kerr announced that to-day at 1 o'clock the matter of Home Missions will be considered in the Synod.

To-night at 8 o'clock the question of Foreign Missions will be the order.

Addresses will be delivered by Rev. Drs. Ballard, Hoge, and McIlwaine. The Synod meets to-day at 9:30 o'clock A. M. The public invited, and also at the night meeting.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

Proclamation by Governor Lee.

WHEREAS His Excellency, the President of the United States, has designated Thursday, the 25th of November, to be observed as a day of prayer and thanksgiving.

Now, therefore, I, Fitzhugh Lee, Governor of Virginia, do hereby request the people of this State to assemble on that day around their family altars, and in their respective places of worship, to render thanks to Almighty God through His son, our Lord Jesus Christ, for the many benefits they have received at His hands during the year, whose deepening shadows point to its approaching end. Let us beseech Him to continue His gracious favor to this Commonwealth, that the happiness of our people may be promoted, and that the "wonderful works done to the children of men" may be duly acknowledged. Let us reverently pray Him to bring to the distressed, relief; to the afflicted, comfort; to the oppressed, hope; and to all, His mercy; for we believe "His mercy endureth forever."

Given under my hand and the lesser seal of the Commonwealth, at Richmond, this tenth day of November, eighteen hundred and eighty-six, and in the one hundred and eleven year of the Commonwealth.

FITZHUGH LEE.

[Seal.] By the Governor.

H. W. FLOURNOY,

Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Money Saved for the City.

The erection of the new City Hall will save the city considerable money in the matter of rents. At present the city leases the Odd Fellows' Hall, at the corner of Mayo and Franklin streets, for a police-court room, and the rooms over Owens & Minor, 1,007 Main street, for the Circuit Court and Sheriff's office. Washington Hall, in which the Council chamber and Fire Department headquarters are located, is the property of the city, but these rooms can be readily rented to other parties, making an additional saving in the municipal government.

No Money as Yet.

The Council Committee on Elections were to have met on Monday evening last to make arrangements for the paying of the registrars and judges who served in the late election, but owing to the failure of the members to attend, no quorum was present, and nothing could be done. As yet there has been no call for another meeting of the committee, thus leaving the aforesaid parties out in the cold for the present.

A Sad Affliction.

Tuesday night General R. D. Lilley was stricken with paralysis while addressing the Presbyterian Synod. The fact was not discovered until after he had concluded his remarks. He was at once surrounded by friends and conveyed to his room. Yesterday morning he was reported better. The Synod yesterday morning adopted a resolution of sympathy for General Lilley.

In Thirty Days.

Cluverius having been sentenced to be executed on the 10th of December, he has exactly one month longer to live, provided the Governor does not interpose. The prisoner does not seem to change a particle in his general appearance, but looks just like he has always looked ever since his arrest, save that close confinement has made his complexion less ruddy.

Thornton Meredith (colored), a fugitive from Louisa county, where he is wanted for felonious cutting, was arrested and lodged in the First station-house last night. He will be before the Police Justice this morning.

UNDERWRITERS.

Third Annual Session of the State Board.

The State Board of Underwriters met in this city yesterday in annual session, at the office of the Virginia State Insurance Company. No business of special interest was done, except to receive the reports of the president and secretary.

President W. L. Cowardin, of Richmond, in his report says, among other things:

"It is sad to reflect that notwithstanding efforts on our part, the companies have made no money in Virginia for over five years, but this result is not without similar experience of the insurance business in other States. But why is it? It can not be because we have Boards, since they have served to maintain rates, that without them would have fallen into hopeless derangement. What is the remedy? A prominent company that wants commissions reduced, writes: 'If we cannot reduce expenses we should reduce rates, and that justice to our assured requires that we should protect their interests.' We cannot unravel this logic, but must conclude that our friend has fallen among extremists, or has a passion for directing storms. While one-fifth, one-fourth, or one-third of the premium receipts go to the agents (for which we cannot blame them), and a considerable part of the remainder is taken for taxes and incidentals, how can we pay losses by reducing premiums for any reason? 'Justice to the assured,' indeed, who should prefer indemnity to low rates of premium? We have just read the letter of an agent in a large western city who represents a number of companies. It says: 'I have thought best to drop you a line in regard to commissions. Nearly every company in my office allows me twenty-five per cent. and for the last two years, and I want yours to do likewise. You are getting the cream. I have been hoping you would have volunteered the above as others have done. As we have artificial butter, it is possible that some form of artificial cream has served for the above comparison, in these days of creamless insurance, as regards the companies.' In conclusion, he urged a closer and firmer co-operation among the companies. The report of the secretary showed the receipts and disbursements for the year. The receipts were $2,585.10, and the disbursements $499.57.

WHO WAS THE LUCKY MAN?

A Manchester Man Wins One-Fifth of the Capital Prize in the New Orleans Lottery.

The following telegram was received yesterday in Richmond:

"NEW ORLEANS, La., November 9.—At the monthly drawing of the Louisiana Lottery Company to-day the following tickets were drawn: No. 94,552, first capital, sold in New Orleans, Boston, Mass.; Chicago, Ill.; Manchester, Va., and Keene, Ky."

A Times reporter last night went over to Manchester to find out who was the lucky man.

We soon found out that it was Mr. George R. Kinsey. The reporter called on Mr. Kinsey at his residence on Ninth street between Decatur and Stockton, about 9 o'clock. Mr. Kinsey was just about to retire. This proved that he was not over-elated and had not started out to paint the town red. Mr. Kinsey had not been officially notified, but had been told by friends that his number 94,552 had drawn one or both of the prizes.

Mr. Kinsey is a painter, and works at the Danville shops. He came from Baltimore. About two years ago he married Miss Alma Brown, one of the most popular, lovable, and in every way charming girls of the city. Mrs. Kinsey is a granddaughter of ex-Postmaster Beattie. "The happy couple" have one little girl. Mr. Kinsey had purchased one ticket before and drew a blank. He bought his ticket direct from New Orleans. He is about twenty-eight years of age. He will continue at work at least for the present. Mr. Kinsey has many friends who will rejoice at his good fortune both on his own account and on that of his wife's. At the October drawing a Sidney man, working at the Danville shops, drew $5,000, and his name was Kitchen. We find two letters of his name and Kinsey's are similar. The letter K always was in luck, and Ki seems to be a killing combination. Danville stock is again on a boom, and the December drawing will be awaited with breathless impatience. Whom will it strike next?

Police Court.

The following cases were disposed of yesterday, Justice D. C. Richardson presiding:

Richard Washington (colored), was sent to jail for sixty days for stealing a pair of shoes from Jacob Parker. The theft was committed near the Theatre, and the theft was captured by Sergeant T. C. Epps and a crowd of citizens.

F. Arnold was sent to jail for thirty days for vagrancy.

Austin Mitchell (colored), was sent to jail for three months for stealing two bags of cabbage from R. H. Wright.

The Work Goes On.

The stone work on the Custom-house has begun in earnest. Yesterday there were twelve first-class men at work. The remaining eighteen will be put to work as soon as possible. On the door of Captain Allen's office the names of the thirty who have been selected are placarded, and until further orders no more will be employed. The work will now be pushed forward as vigorously as possible.

Old Gray's Association.

There will be a meeting of the old members of the Richmond Grays at their room at the Armory to-night at 8 o'clock to form an Association. It is hoped that every old Gray will be present.

BREVITIES.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS, MINOR TOPICS, AND SMALL MATTERS.

The News of the Day Boiled Down and Served Up in Condensed Shape.

Rev. Dr. John Hannon preached at Park-place M. E. Church last night.

The Howitzers have decided to have their annual reunion December 13th.

A. B. Crowell, of Richmond, has obtained a patent for a hydraulic motor.

The excursion to Staunton leaves to-day at 11:25 A. M., sharp. This is a cheap trip.

The banquet of the Chamber of Commerce will take place at Senger Halle to-night.

The funeral of Mr. Andrew Johnston took place from St. James church yesterday evening.

Oregon Hill is excited over a mysterious shooting case and an equally as mysterious elopement.

There is a really dangerous hole in the pavement on the eastern corner of Broad street and Brook avenue.

There were two converts at the Salvation Army Tuesday night. They had a large crowd and good order.

Tuesday evening Mr. Sandy Williams, of Danville, and Miss Lucy Mayo, of West Cary street, were married.

Rev. I. Morton Mercer, who has lately returned from Europe, preached at the Second Baptist church last night.

The first-story of the Confederate Soldiers' Home chapel is well under way and the windows are being put in.

Mr. R. D. Wade, of Washington, of the Richmond and Danville system, was on a hurried visit to the city yesterday.

"The Social Glass" will be presented at Corcoran Hall to-night and to-morrow night by J. R. Tillery and an excellent cast.

Mr. James B. Rowlett, late repairer of cars for the City Railway, died Tuesday evening at his residence on Reservoir street.

Among those in attendance at the Presbyterian Synod are Rev. William A. Campbell and Judge Isaac H. Christian, of Charles City.

Messrs. Holmes Conrad, of Winchester, and Hugh W. Sheffield, of Staunton, have met with a warm welcome from their friends this week.

The Times's weather prophet predicts rain either to-day or to-morrow, as there was a ring around the moon last night and this morning.

Large crowds continue to attend the fair of the Little Sisters of the Poor at the Armory, and the contests for the various articles increase in warmth.

The pound party yesterday for the benefit of the Episcopal Home was a great success, and the lady managers return their thanks to all who contributed.

It is gratifying to state that a new building has been started near the northeast corner of Laurel and Albemarle streets. This lot has long been a standing nuisance.

The heavy fall of leaves for the past week keeps the park-keepers busy, and, in fact, all over the city the amount of trash lying around loose is very observable.

The ladies of Grace Episcopal church wish it understood that their big D advertisement in this case stands for a big Thanksgiving dinner to be had at the church.

There was not only an overflow meeting at Park-Place church yesterday, but people were parked all over Monroe Park, and the place assumed the appearance of a big meeting in the country.

The State Versus Brown Allen's Sureties.

In the case of the Commonwealth vs. the sureties of S. Brown Allen, late auditor, etc., counsel for the defendants Tuesday entered a demurrer to the testimony.

The case was yesterday ably argued by Colonel Edgar Allen, Mr. Frank W. Christian, and Holmes Conrad. The latter was speaking when this report closed. Judge Hugh W. Sheffield will close the case for the defendants to-day.

Amicably Settled.

The continued case of Mr. Charles W. Turner, charged with assaulting Colonel William F. Giddings, was called in the Police Court this morning and dismissed. Nobody appeared against the accused, and it was understood that the difficulty had been amicably settled.

Rev. R. P. Kerr.

In order to have the notice as widely circulated as possible it is stated that Rev. R. P. Kerr, of the First Presbyterian church, will officiate at the Male Orphan Asylum chapel next Sunday at 4 o'clock P. M., and Bishop Randolph will conduct the services at a date to be hereafter named.

The Crescent Exhibition.

This novel and attractive exhibition at the lecture-room of Clay-street Methodist church will be kept up all the week. The young ladies under Prof. Thomas J. Minor appear in the most beautiful and bewildering marches. There will be music tableaux, refreshments, &c., &c. The fees are nominal and the fun phenomenal.

Sample Merchant Arrested.

C. Gries, a sample merchant for a wholesale liquor house, was arrested by policeman Poiteaux for selling by sample without a license.

PARK-PLACE CHURCH.

Its Dedication Yesterday With Impressive Services.

Park-Place Methodist Episcopal church was dedicated yesterday, the services lasting from 12 to 2 o'clock. The crowd began to assemble some time before 12, and by the appointed hour the edifice was filled to its utmost capacity. A voluntary from Chopin's "march funebre" was rendered by Mr. Jacob Reinhardt, and then Rev. Dr. John E. Edwards read the beautiful opening ode, written for the occasion by the pastor, Rev. William E. Evans. This was sung by the entire congregation to the tune, "America," Mr. C. E. Shepperson, the regular organist of the church, playing the accompaniment. Dr. Edwards then led in prayer, and next came the reading of the Scripture lessons by Rev. Dr. John Hannon. The hymn, "I'll wash my hands in innocence" was sung by the congregation, after which Dr. Edwards made some interesting remarks of a local reminiscent character, and preached the dedication sermon. The text was: "I was glad when they said unto me, let us go into the house of the Lord." It was an earnest and practical sermon, one of the main points being to show that public worship is social, and that members of churches must therefore work together—hand in hand and heart with heart. Congregations must not be so fashionably dressed as to prevent the poor from feeling at home in the church. The preacher assured his hearers that the church which was about to be dedicated was not built for a few, but for all who would come. He urged the ladies especially to be active in visiting the poor and inviting all who were not in the habit of attending religious services to accompany them to the house of God. The closing portion of the sermon, alluding to the memorial character of the new church was especially impressive and touching. The speaker was listened to throughout with marked attention.

Mrs. Reinhardt's solo immediately after the sermon—"To Thy Temple"—was beautifully rendered. Mr. J. Thompson Brown, in behalf of the trustees of the church, formally presented the building to the pastor for dedication, and then a Scriptural ritual was recited. Then followed the sentence of dedication and prayer. The doxology was sung, and the services were closed with the benediction.

The only ministers who occupied seats on the pulpit platform were Rev. Dr. Edwards, Rev. Dr. Hannon and the pastor. The presiding elder—Dr. Paul Whitehead—and Rev. J. J. Lafferty sat within the chancel railing. The ministers of Richmond occupied seats in the front row of pews. Mr. James B. Pace's family sat in a pew about one-third back from the pulpit. Governor Lee sat in a pew just across the aisle from Mr. Pace. The church was greatly admired. The wood work is finished in cherry, and the walls and all the upholstery harmonize elegantly.

A BIG BLAZE.

A Ship and Cargo Burned at West Point.

Monday night a destructive fire occurred at West Point. The American bark Alice M. Minnott, Capt. Dickenson, of Bath, Me., was being loaded with cotton for Liverpool. By some accident a lamp was overturned in the hold and exploded. In an instant the lint and stray cotton was in a blaze. The fire, fed by such inflammable stuff, made rapid headway, and it was found impossible to stay its progress. The hatches were shut down and an attempt made in this way to suppress the fire. It was found impossible, and the vessel was towed out in the stream for the safety of other property. Hoies were made in her to sink her, so that she might not be a total wreck. The Times reporter's informant said that the report was that both vessel and cargo, as far as loaded, would be a total loss.

Marriage.

At 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the synagogue Beth Ababa, Edward Whitlock was married to Miss Gertrude Bear, both of this city.

The marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. Harris, and Professor Reinhardt presided at the organ.

A large audience of invited guests were present, among whom was Governor Lee. Mr. and Mrs. Whitlock left on the 6:29 train for an extended northern tour.

Supreme Court of Appeals, Yesterday.

Fincham against Commonwealth. Cause removed to the court's place of session at Staunton.

Commonwealth against Booker & Co., and fifty-seven other coupon cases. Argued by Attorney-General for Commonwealth, and by W. W. Larkin for defendant in error and submitted.

Mays against Commonwealth. Argued by W. W. Larkin, Esq., for plaintiff in error.

The Orphan Boys at the Little Sisters' Fair.

Last night the boys of the Male Orphan Asylum visited the Armory and aided the Little Sisters of the Poor. They had their vocophones and chinchopias with them, and under Mrs. Gill's direction, rendered some fine vocal and instrumental music. Little Mamie Trahern also sang, and the evening was one of the most attractive since the fair began.

An Extra Session of the Legislature Improbable.

There has been considerable talk lately of an extra session of the Legislature, but thus far it has amounted to nothing but talk. The Governor has not announced that he would call the Legislature back again, nor have two-thirds of the members agreed upon having an extra session. From present indications an extra session of the General Assembly seems improbable.

MANCHESTER MATTERS.

The Richmond and Danville Railroad Department of the Y. M. C. A. has long felt the need of better organization. In furtherance of that end a meeting was held at their rooms Monday evening last. The matter was well ventilated, and resulted in better organization, with the election of the following officers for the ensuing year: J. J. Bailey, chairman; W. E. McAllister, vice-chairman; M. Dickie, secretary, and B. J. Walker, treasurer. An executive committee, to act in conjunction with these officers, was elected as follows: D. J. Weisiger, D. M. Wiltshire, Joseph Cooks, C. E. Day, and the Rev. T. P. Epes.

The following committees were appointed by the Chair:

Devotional—D. J. Weisiger, chairman. Membership—C. E. Day, chairman. Lecture and Entertainment—J. R. Tillery, chairman.

Educational Classes—T. W. Gentry, chairman.

Music—W. E. Powell, chairman.

After business an oyster supper was tendered the different committees, social conversation and music were indulged in, and altogether the occasion was one of much interest. This organization has done good work. They have outgrown their present quarters and are much in need of more room. It is to be hoped that this great want will be supplied.

Mr. George Andrews, of Raleigh, N. C., formerly of this city, and Miss Lucy Day, of Manchester, were married yesterday afternoon at the Bainbridge-street Baptist church, in the presence of a large number of friends and acquaintances.

ALBANY, N. Y., November 10.—A train of eight cars of dressed beef arrived here to-day from Chicago. Nine cars of live cattle for dressed-beef firms en route to Brighton were received here yesterday, but none came to-day.

North Carolina Politics.

RALEIGH, N. C., November 10.—The Senate stands, 27 straight Democrats, 3 Independent Democrats, 20 Republicans. The House has 54 straight Democrats, 9 Independent Democrats, and 57 Republicans. No labor candidates were elected. The Independents were all, heretofore, Democrats, and claimed, while running, to be Democrats. It is understood that the Republicans propose to nominate an Independent for speaker, expecting thus to control the organization of the House. The Democrats expect the co-operation of the Independents as heretofore.

The Telephone Suits.

CINCINNATI, OHIO, November 10.—The decision of the preliminary questions in the great telephone case, the hearing of which some weeks ago was the occasion of concentrating in our midst so much of the legal learning and ability of the country, will be given in the United States Court to-morrow morning by Judge Sage.

Alabama State Fair.

MONTGOMERY, November 10.—The Alabama State Fair is the most successful ever held in the State. The weather is somewhat unfavorable. The speeding is very full of flyers.

Supposed Murder.

BOSTON, November 10.—The autopsy in the case of Mary Madden, who was found dead yesterday morning, disclosed the fact that death resulted from blows probably given with some hard substance. Her husband will be held for murder.

A Chance for Star-Gazers.

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 10.—Astronomers about the nautical almanac office, say that on the night of November 12th, six stars will be hidden by the moon one after the other. The occultations will be visible in this latitude.

An Ovation.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 10.—The reception to Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Florence, popular Eastern actors, last night amounted to a perfect ovation. Hundreds of people had to be turned away.

It Is a Fact.

that Dr. David's Cough Syrup is perfectly harmless and the most effective cure for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Croup, etc., known. Don't take any of the "just-as-good-as" (so-called) cough cures offered you because they cost the seller less, but insist upon having Dr. David's Cough Syrup.
